We, the members of the Libertarian Party, challenge the cult of the omnipotent state and defend the rights of the individual.

We hold that all individuals have the right to exercise sole dominion over their own lives, and have the right to live in whatever manner they choose, so long as they do not forcibly interfere with the equal right of others to live in whatever manner they choose.

Governments, from the earliest history have reigned, not as protectors of the individual, but as the rulers of the collective community. Governments have taken over the rights of the individuals, and have become the agents of the collective majority. Governments have taken over the rights of the individual, and have become the agents of the collective majority. Governments have taken over the rights of the individual, and have become the agents of the collective majority.

We reject all government, state, and societal hierarchies, and oppose all attempts by government, state, and society to impose their will upon any individual or group. We oppose all governments and all societal hierarchies, as we oppose all attempts by government to impose their will upon any individual or group. We oppose all governments and all societal hierarchies, as we oppose all attempts by government to impose their will upon any individual or group.
