

LIBERTARIAN PARTY RADICAL CAUCUS

We, the members of the Libertarian Party, challenge the cult of the omnipotent state and defend the rights of the individual.

We, the Libertarian Party, have the right to exercise our own lives and have the right to live in whatever manner we choose, so long as they do not harm others. We, the Libertarian Party, believe that the only way to protect the rights of the individual is to oppose all attempts by government to abridge the freedom of speech and press, as well as government censorship in any form; and (3) the right to property—accordingly we oppose all government interference with private property, such as confiscation, nationalization, and eminent domain, and support the prohibition of robbery, trespass, fraud, and misrepresentation.

RADICAL CAUCUS

Since governments, when instituted, must not violate individual rights, we oppose any interference by government in the areas of voluntary and contractual relations among individuals. People should not be forced to sacrifice their lives and property for the benefit of others. They should be left free by government to deal with one another as free traders; and the resultant economic system, the only one compatible with the protection of individual rights, is the free market.
